Awareness— In Our Time

Awareness proved to be an important factor for the 1973-74 school year as students became involved in the idea of ecology. They acknowledged the environmental problems that today oppose the world in which they live. These problems were discussed in the classroom and carried over into special projects. Eighth Grade science classes picked up litter several times on school grounds and along public highways. Advanced biology students cooperated with the Corps of Engineer officials in helping plant trees in Forsyth public parks. An exhibit was set up in Shadow Rock Park during the White Bass Round-Up to show the community some ways to deal with environmental problems facing our area.

A concern for the needs of other people became evident as the Student Council, FHA, and Beta Club participated in the selling of smile candles for Muscular Dystrophy.

Equality of the sexes was observed in previously all-male or all-female classes becoming co-educational.

Community involvement materialized with a tornado drill in which students were tagged with make-believe injuries and rushed to the area hospital where they were "treated" by cooperating staff members.

Becoming interested in state government the Missouri History Class traveled to Jefferson City, observed the state legislature in session, and visited offices in the Highway Patrol and the State Penitentiary.

All of these experiences aided students in becoming more aware of their surroundings.

Expansion Allows Growth

Returning to the seven period day gave the students of Forsyth High a chance to enroll in an extra elective course or allowed them an hour which could be used as a study hall.

Along with this change, three new classes, Art II, Latin II, and Advanced Biology, were adopted into the expanding curriculum, enabling the students to gain a deeper perspective into these areas of study.

Aside from these new courses, the required subjects of English, history, mathematics and science continued to flourish.

Family Living, a co-educational class, let the students study and work together in the homemaking activities of cooking and sewing. The class was also involved in a general study of life itself.

For students who enjoy studying the mind and behavioral characteristics of the human being, Psychology was offered as a semester course along with Sociology, the science concerned with human social relations.

The Vocational Agriculture Department was very popular among boys due to the geographic region. The courses taught many types of farming, from raising food crops to breeding and raising cattle.

As the curriculum at Forsyth High continued to grow, the students realized the importance of being allowed to choose the classes that would pertain to their daily lives, as well as prepare them for the future.

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT: Emerson Trimble places the finishing touches on a project assigned in shop. Reta Gann and Linda Dean compare filing cards in clerical office practice. Preparing punch in home economics proves to be fun for Brenda Turner and Kathy Grant. Studying slides under microscopes seems to interest Wesley Pennington and Matthew Vince. Leslie Harrison, Cheryl Sullivan, and Beckie Martin design pop art objects in art class. Shirley Burns and Julie Brown practice styling Carletta Thornton's hair as an activity in home economics. In driver education, Pam Woody struggles to change a tire.

Activity Enhances Curriculum

Faculty Implements Plans

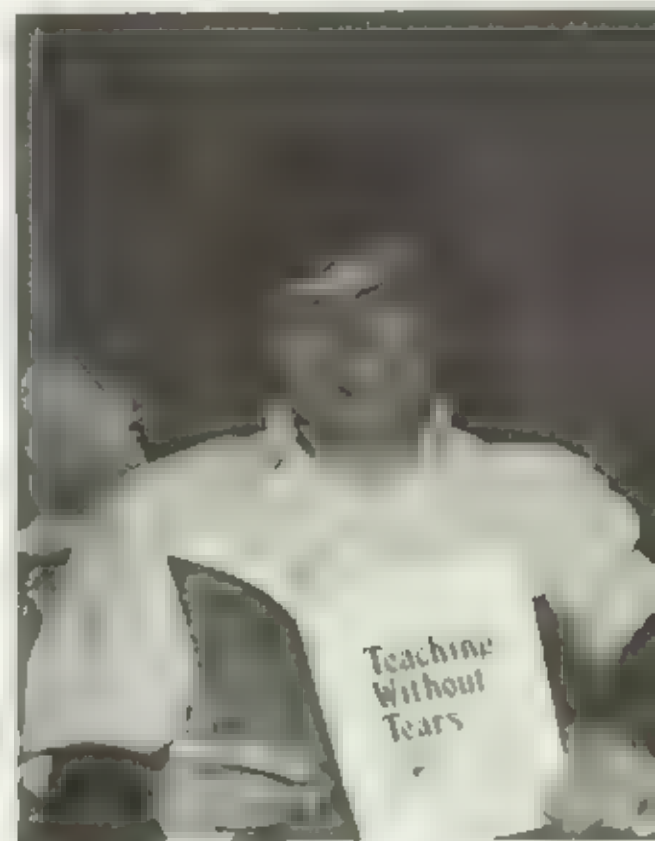

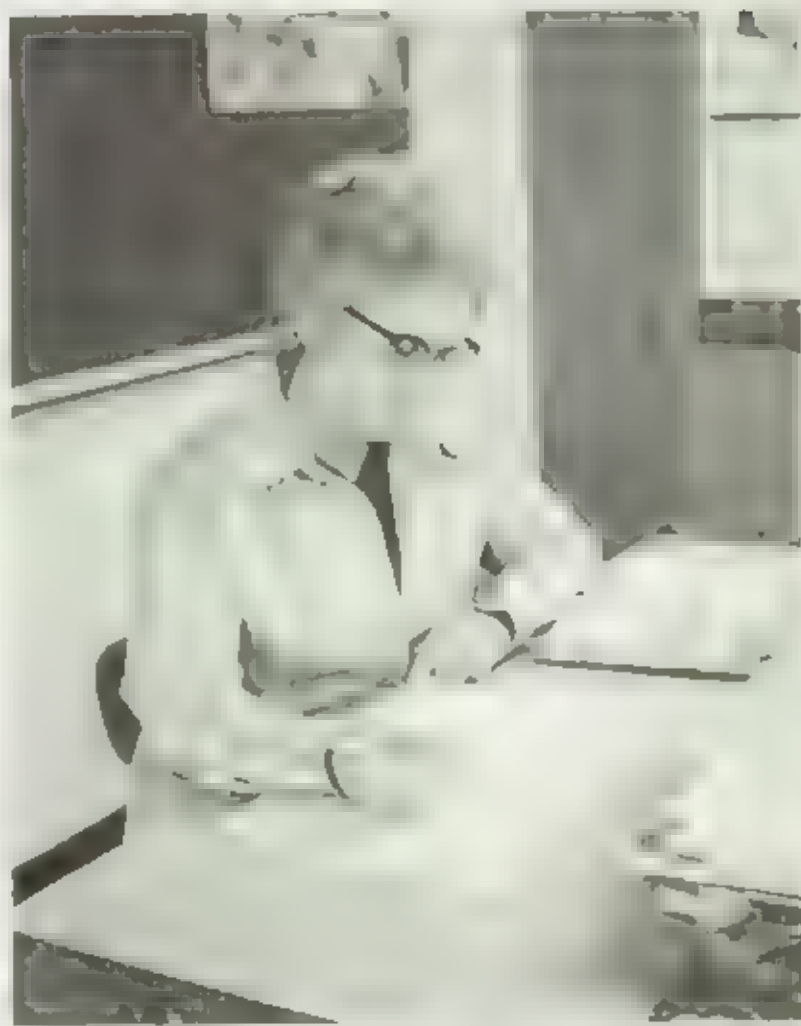

Cognizant of new methods in the teaching of career education, ecology, and vocational preparation, teachers added different units of study to their courses.

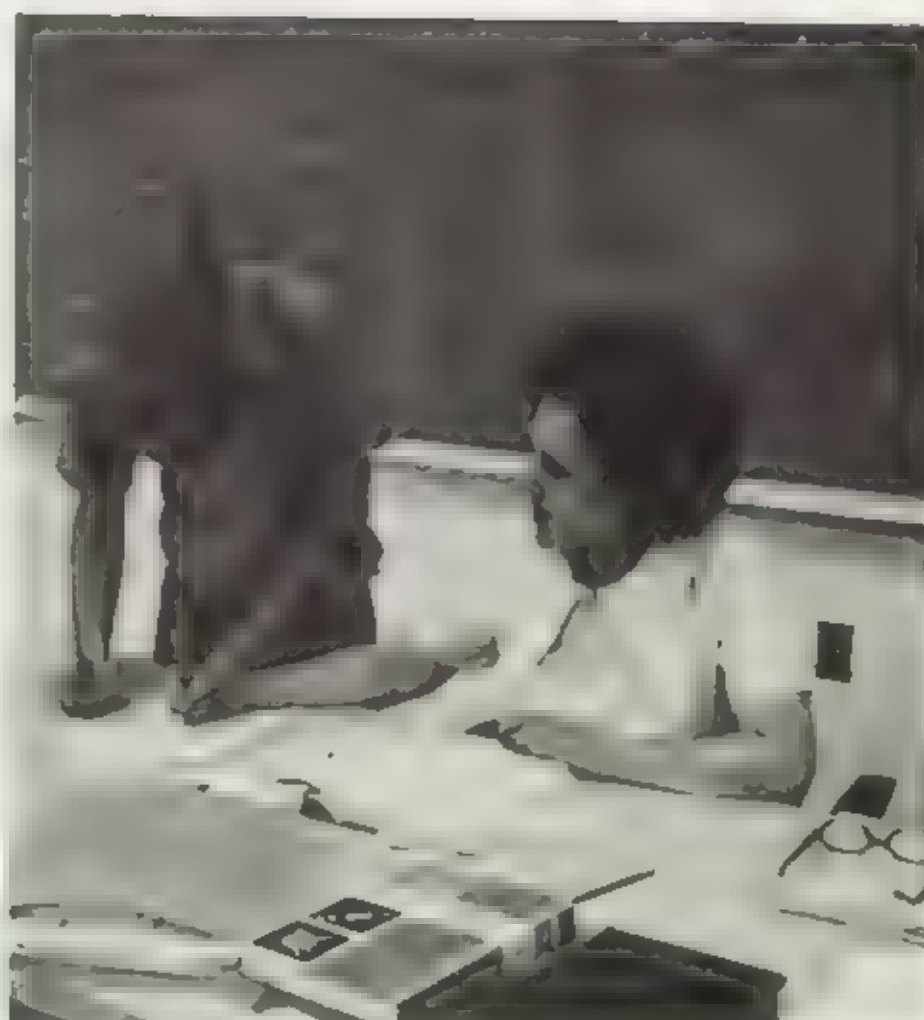

Conscious that the metric system (being used worldwide) necessitated a transformation in teaching, faculty members prepared by conducting a workshop during the second semester to familiarize themselves with beginning methods for teaching this system.

Social studies classes started plans and preparations in units and projects for observation of America's bicentennial celebration.

In Missouri History a unit on old settlements and early history of the local area was reviewed and tied in with the present.

By working together the administration, faculty, and students proved to be more aware of the changes in the world and the surrounding community.

Faculty Awareness Proves Vital To FHS Students

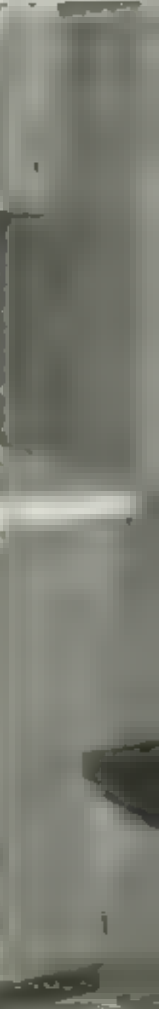

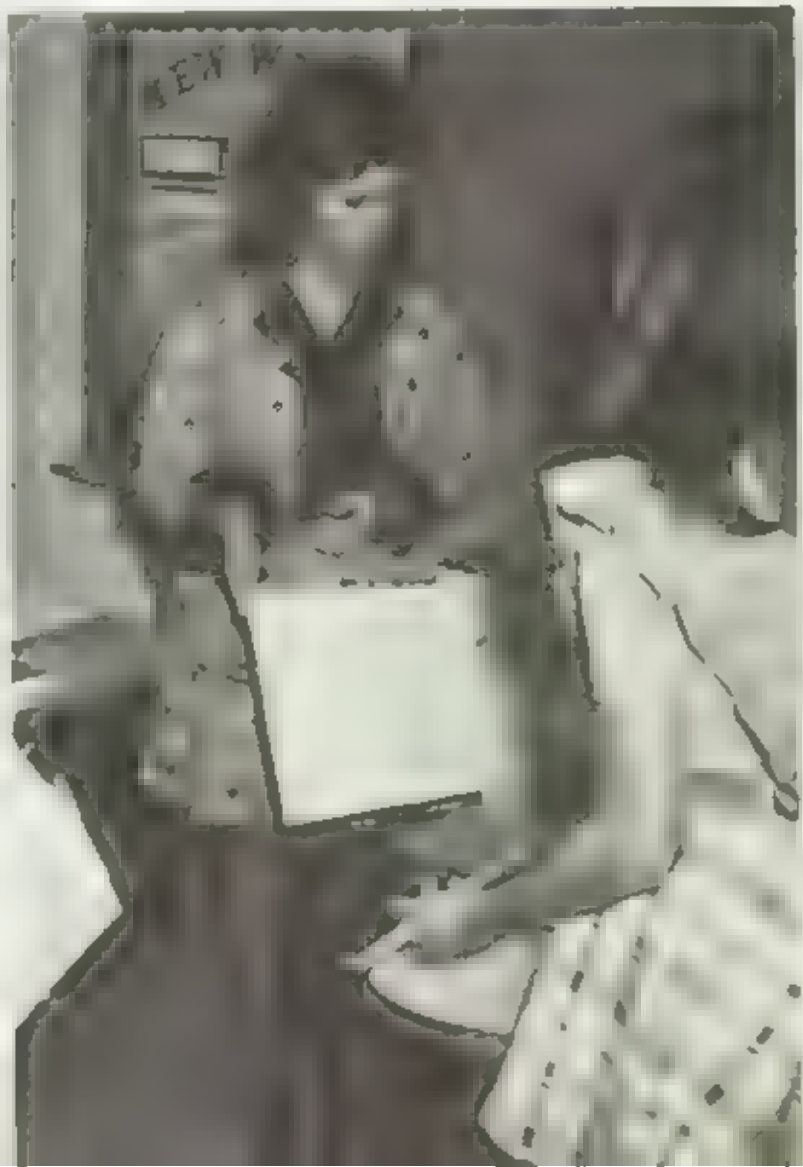

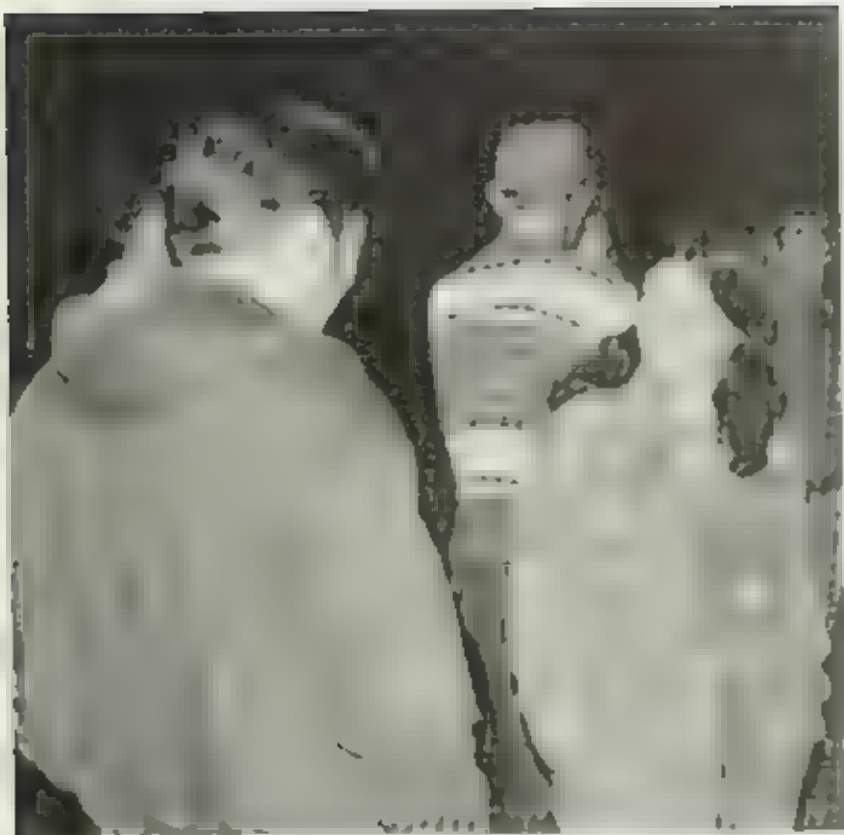

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT: After winning the big game, smiles are in order for Mr. Glenn Aversman (assistant coach) and Mr. Speedy Branstetter (coach). Mrs. Norma Pierce (business), Mr. Everett Isaacs (history), Mr. Mickey Talbott (dramatics), and Mr. Micheal Merrell (history) inspect a new textbook. Vicki Foshe listens attentively as Miss Candice Jepson (student teacher), Mrs. Ermal Hinderliter (business), and Mrs. Martha Merrell (English) give advice concerning pictures for the annual. Mr. W. H. "Windy" Wayland (building trades) offers Steve Clarkson a word from the wise. Mrs. Sherron Hancock (home economics) and Mrs. Debbie McMurtrey (art) take a break in the teachers' lounge. Mr. Bob Sell (industrial arts) and Mr. Doyle Kissee (custodian) examine shop equipment as Kenny Addington looks on. Mr. Steve Holland (science) rescues the school from an invading creature

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT: Mr. William Hancock (vocational agriculture) prepares his material to present to the class. Superintendent Richard Hinderliter, Principal Tom Nichols, Mrs. Ohs Rozell (secretary to the superintendent and treasurer to the Board of Education), and Mrs. Nadine Etem (secretary to the principal) discuss samples for new stage curtains. Miss Jo Ann Earl checks through library cards for over due books. Board of Education members Dr. Mary K. Long (president), Mr. Taney Houseman, Mr. Howard Foshe, Mr. E. F. Jackman, and Mr. Jack Kinkade canvass the election books. (Mr. Don Glenn, member of the board, was not present.) Mrs. Marilyn Droke (elementary music) assists drummer Julie Anderson. Miss Karen Hughes (physical education) seems to be enjoying herself as she waits her turn to participate in the Donkey Ball Game.

Duties Stress Cooperation

Elected by the patrons of the school district the Board of Education is responsible for approving expenditures, finalizing the hiring of school personnel, formulating school policies, and setting levies

Administering the school according to the rules and regulations established by the board is the duty of the superintendent. Securing qualified personnel and expending the budget are his main responsibilities

Through supervision of all extra-curricular activities, the principal works directly with the teachers and students

By performing miscellaneous duties the secretaries keep the school running smoothly

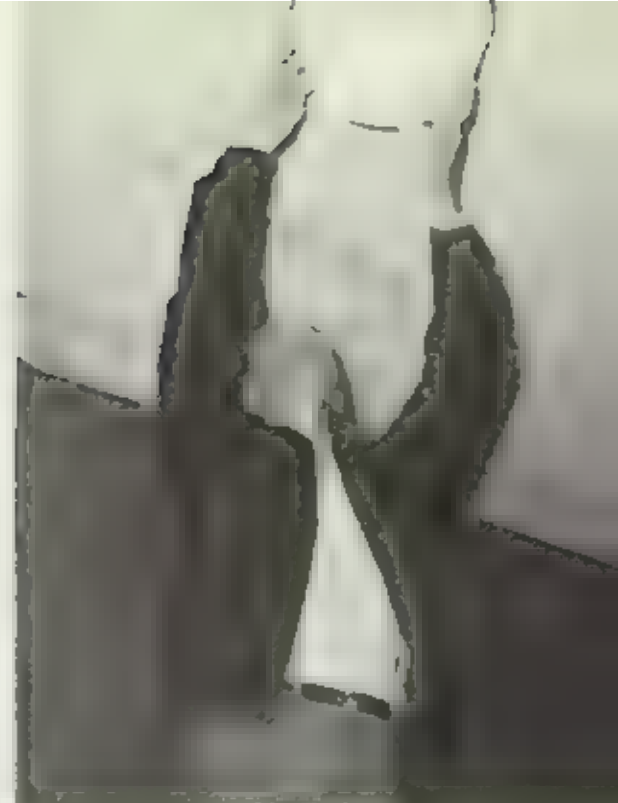

FHS Depends on Personnel

Keeping the school building clean and in good working order required the efforts of two custodians. Marion Reynolds and Doyal Kisse were called upon to perform everyday duties as well as special functions.

Six cooks were seen preparing and serving meals in the FHS cafeteria. By careful planning and division of labor, they were able to serve 450 students a day in a 90 minute period

Without the service of these people, the school would not have been able to function smoothly.

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT: Operating the audio-visual equipment is an added service of custodian Marion Reynolds. Doyal Kisse, custodian, performs an interruptive chore during his routine duties. Cleaning trays for washing are cooks Ruby Frazer and Sylvia Bilyeu. To serve hungry students in the allotted time rushes cooks Tressie Manley, Sarah Housman, Beulah Braden, and Sylvia Merrick.

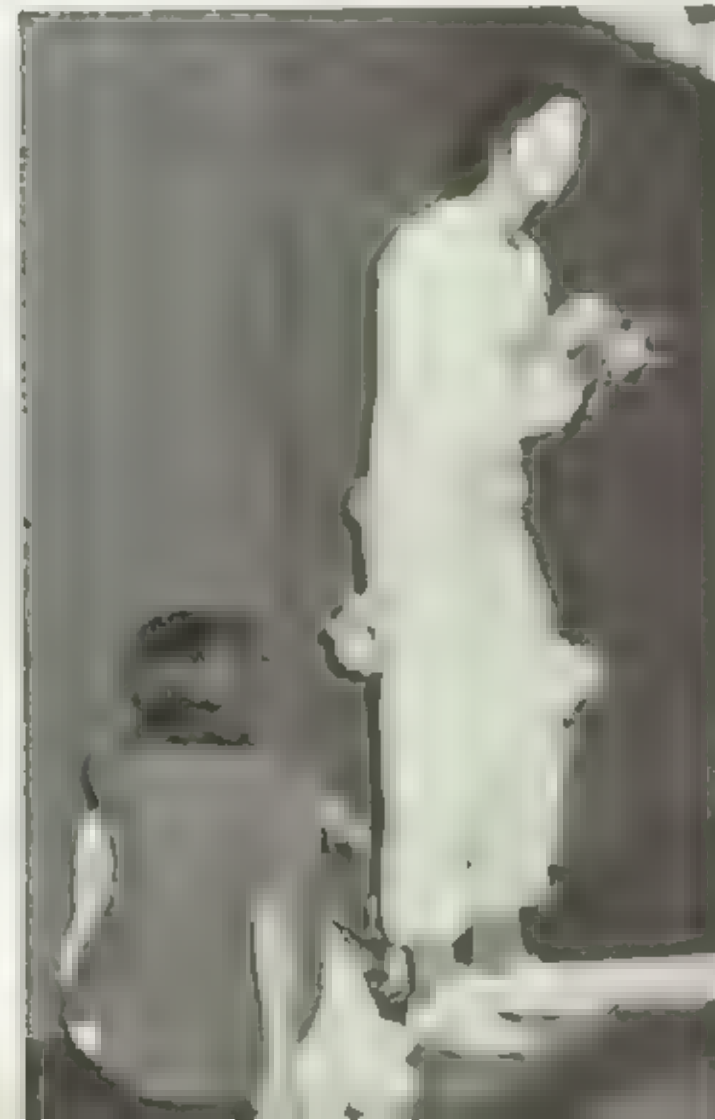

Activities

Assemblies Furnish Diversions

More assemblies were held during the 1973-74 school year than in previous years. A Veterans' Day Assembly began the series with a presentation of colors and a few words by a guest speaker. The local VFW Chapter presented the school with a large United States flag to hang in the gymnasium. A banner proclaiming Forsyth as 1973 Class S State Champions in basketball was donated to the school by the Alumni Association.

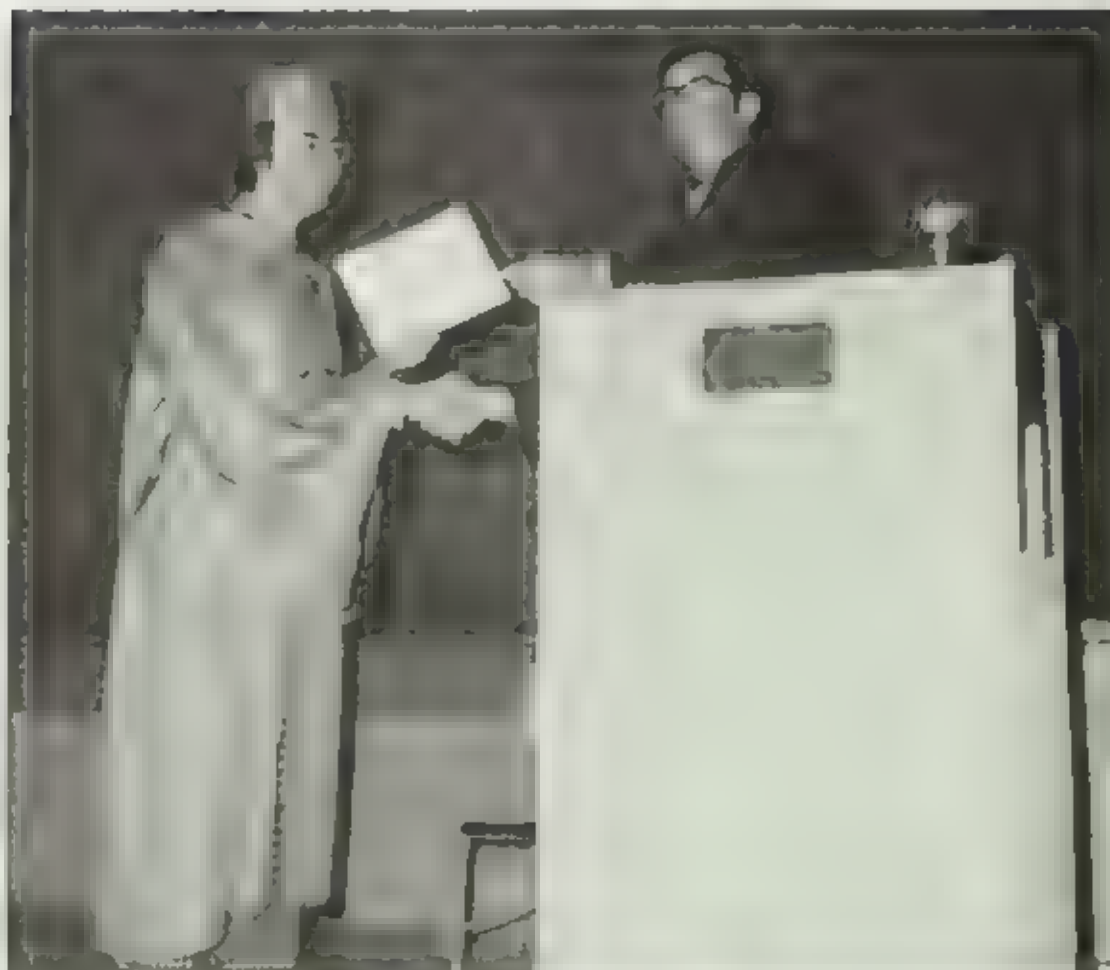

Thanksgiving provided an opportunity for members of the high school chorus to perform appropriate numbers. Speech classes followed the theme with a dramatic reading.

A final speech assembly consisted of a spoof honoring the seniors and the presentation of award-winning speech readings.

Awards Laud Achievement

Recognition for outstanding students in each subject area was the purpose of the Annual Awards Assembly

Mr. Shad Heller, blacksmith and mayor of Silver Dollar City, discussed the importance of keeping an open mind when choosing an occupation. Finding one's talent and learning a craft were ideas stressed.

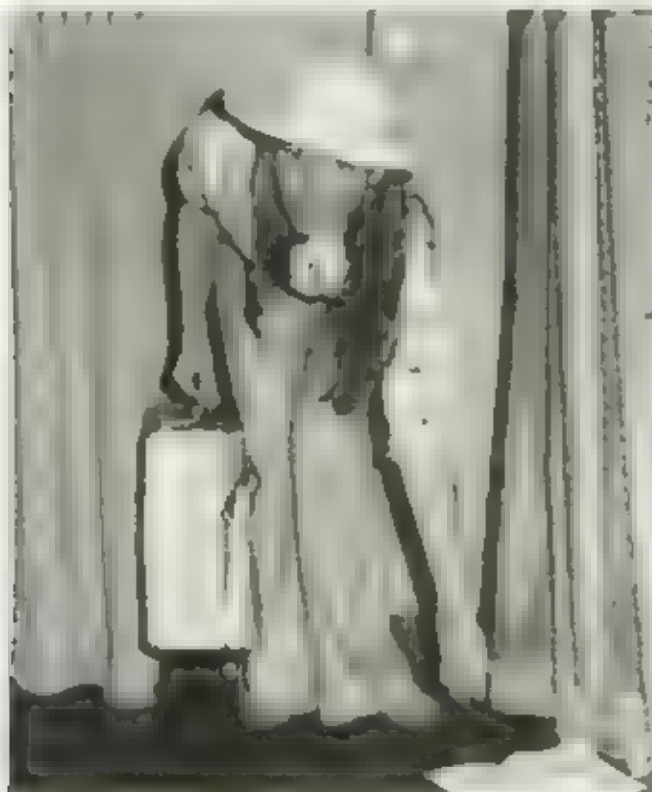

Following Mr. Heller's talk, certificates of achievement were awarded and special scholarships were announced.

Touring Creates Challenges

To motivate interest and excitement among surrounding rural schools members of the cast, directed by Mrs. Pat Larsen, traveled with their one act play "The Bad Children."

Creating an atmosphere of comedy and fun the actors entertained the audiences with the story of Hansel and Gretel. The portrayal of the colorful characters came to life through the imagination of the speech students

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT: Overseeing the rehearsal, Mrs. Pat Larsen, Debbie Sanders, and Gene Booher assure that the play will run smoothly. Working behind the scenes are Brenda Dilday, Jan Wehrman, and Laura Kappes. Striving for the image of her character, Ronda Gimlin applies make-up. Witch Mindy Gentle threatens James Steele and Ronda Gimlin with the return of their children. Mindy Gentle and Brad Melton argue over breakfast in the forest, during a scene of the play. Rehearsal permits Toni Infone to make her entrance just right. The gingerbread house serves as the background for a confrontation between the bad children (Kathy Grant and Don Reynolds) and the witch (Mindy Gentle)

Speech Classes Attain Recognition With 'Meet Me in St. Louis'

Through the efforts of the speech classes under the direction of Mr. Mickey Talbott, "Meet Me in St. Louis" by Christopher Sergel provided an action-packed evening of entertainment. This story of the Smith family centered around Papa's decision to take a better job in New York and move his family from St. Louis just as the World's Fair was opening. Complications result from the schemes dreamed up by his spirited daughters to avoid moving.

Besides presenting the entire play to the school and community, the first act took third at District Speech Contest for one acts. Toni Trifone was lauded for her acting as Tootie.

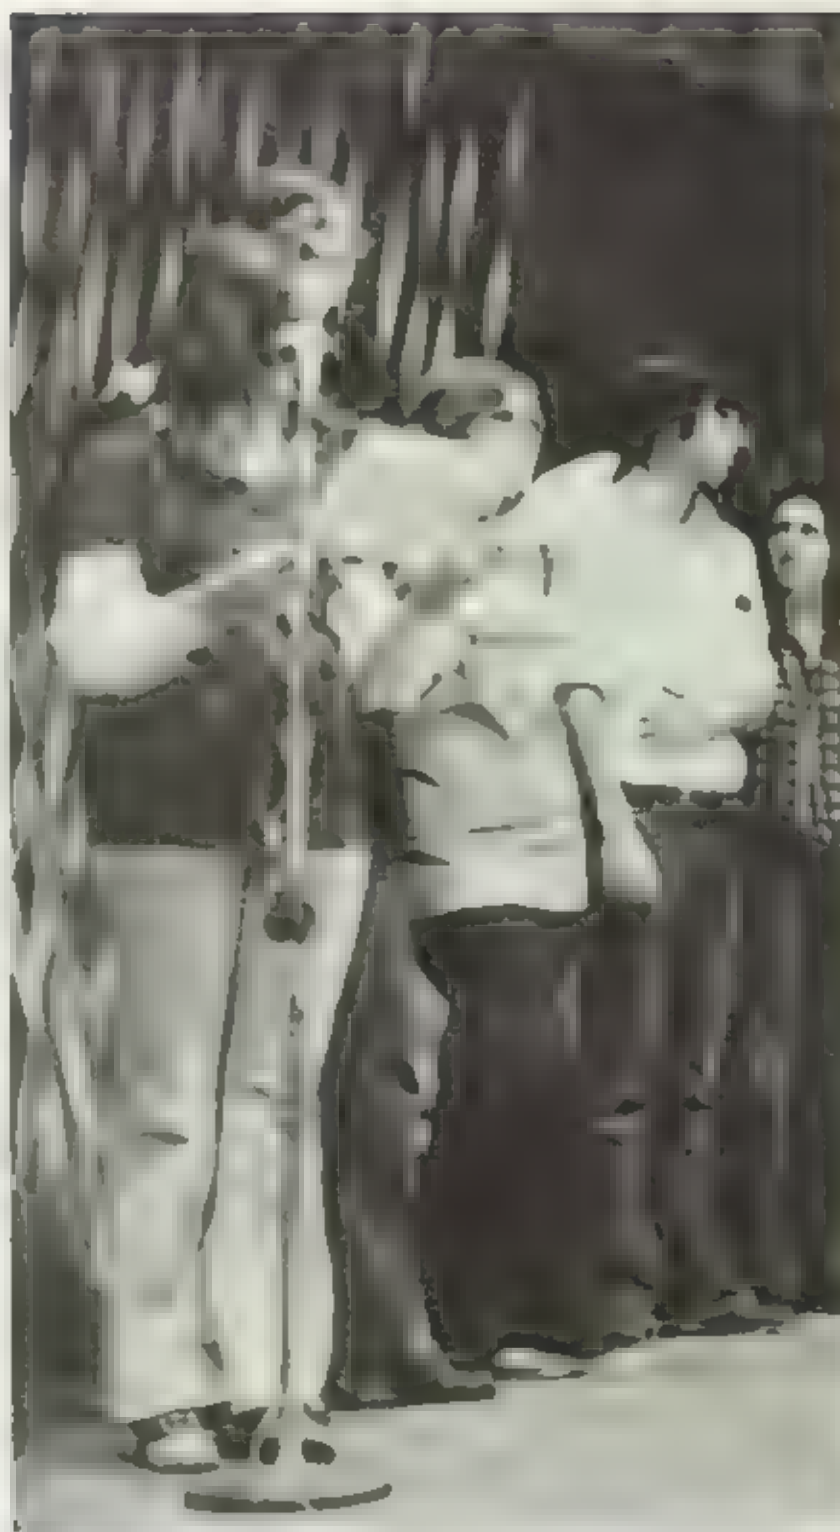

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT. Sherry Osborn (Agnes) and Toni Trifone (Tootie) congratulate each other on their mischievous plans. Rose (Ronda Gimlin) comes to the aid of her sisters, (Agnes (Sherry Osborn) and Tootie (Toni Trifone), after John Shepherd (Dana Bean) has reprimanded them for derailing a trolley. A big kiss from Rose (Ronda Gimlin) delights Mr. Dodge (James Steele), disgusts Tootie (Toni Trifone), and astounds Mama (Gay Ahrenstorff). Mike

*Mood Develops
Behind the Scenes*

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT: Candidates with escorts and announcer Gay Arhenstroff practice for the big night. Robin Crouch and Rick Brown add the finishing touches to the valentine heart for the stage decorations. Debbie Sanders gives Mr. Tom Nichols a card of appreciation from the cheerleaders to the faculty. Students participate during a pep rally held during the day for the big game. Cheerleaders and ball players practice on forming an aisle for the homecoming candidates. Commotion occurs when students gather around the 1974 queen

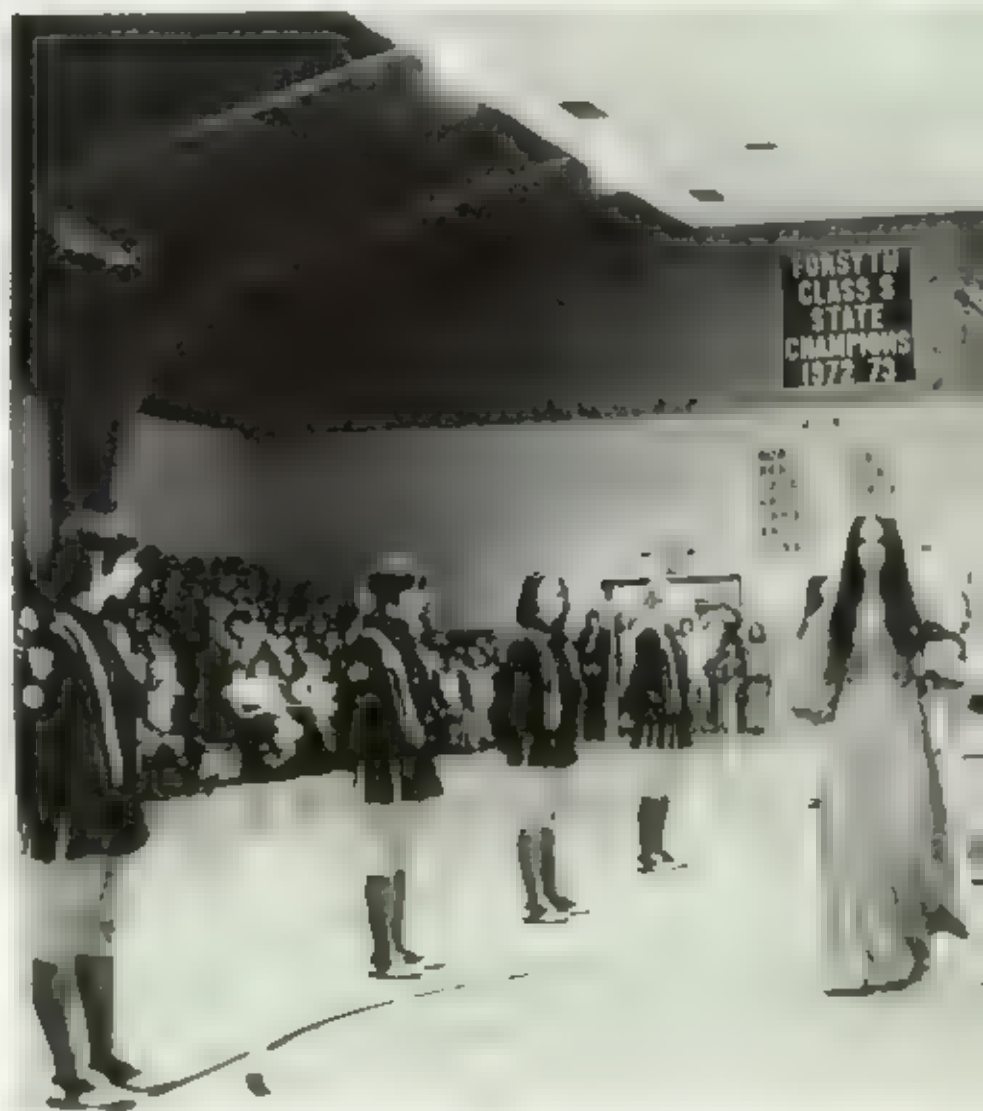

'Love Unlimited' Reflects Homecoming Atmosphere

Strains of "Love Unlimited" filled the gymnasium as Senior Ronda Gimlin was crowned 1974 Homecoming Queen. The candidates and their escorts paraded down an aisle formed by both Junior Varsity and Varsity cheerleaders and ballplayers.

A new approach was used this year concerning the voting procedure and the Homecoming ceremony itself. In previous years the penny-a-vote system was used to determine who received the crown. The new method allowed each student only one vote which was accompanied with a twenty-five cent payment. This change proved successful and added much excitement to the festivities.

After the game with Sparta, the students danced to the music of "Jobe."

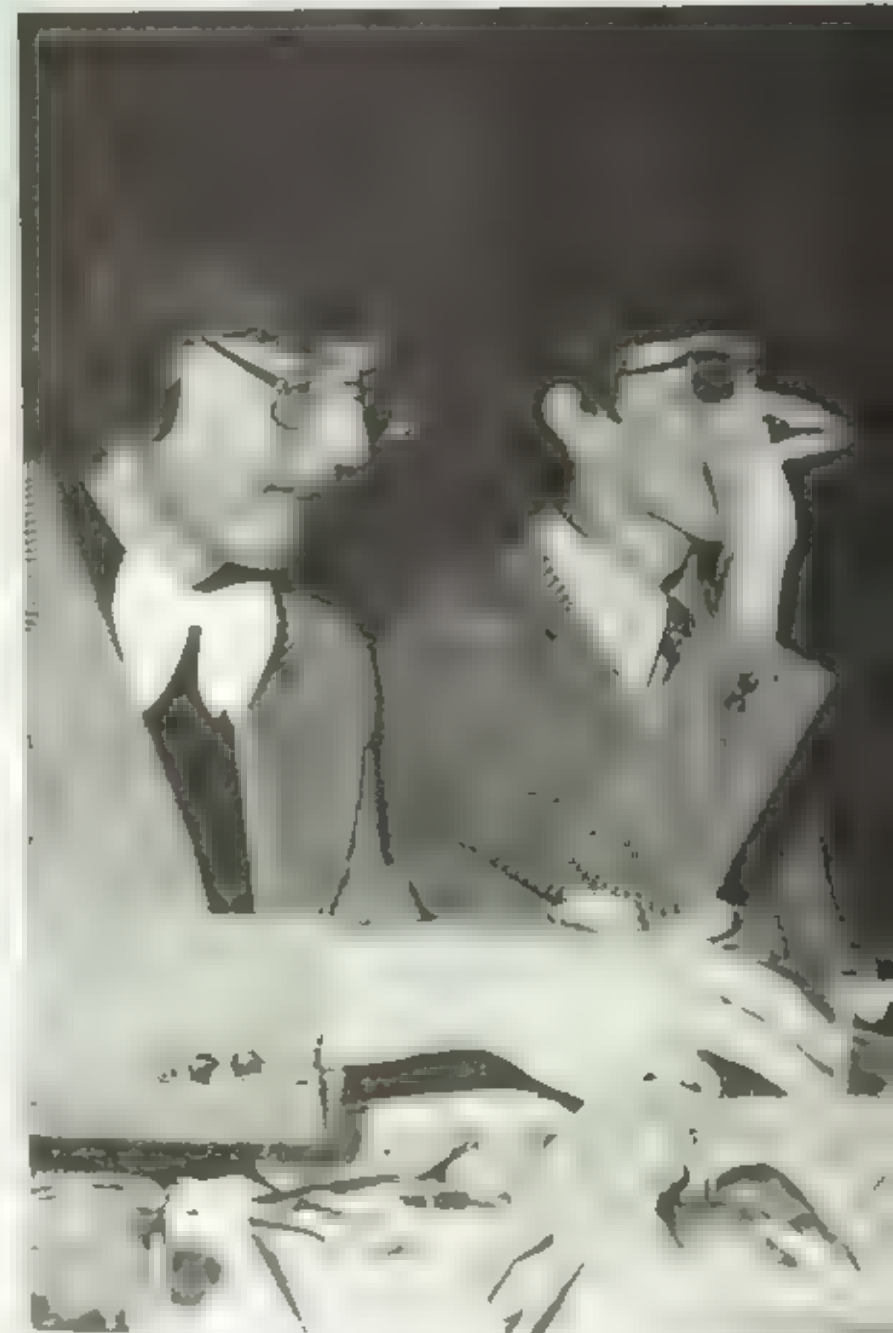

The Homecoming ceremony and dance were sponsored by the Student Council.

Nostalgia Inspires Theme

"The Way We Were" provided a nostalgic theme for the Junior-Senior Banquet honoring the seniors of 1974.

Decorations of blue and white were carried out in the cover of a large photo album containing pictures of seniors during their days at FHS.

Enhancing the mood Toni Trifone sang the popular theme song, "The Way We Were", accompanied by Mark Ferwerda. Radio and television personality, Mr. Bill Ring, delighted guests with tales of past experiences.

Following the buffet meal, Delilah Johnson, Junior Class president, revealed the Junior Prophecy, and the Senior Will was read by Senior Class president Gene Young.

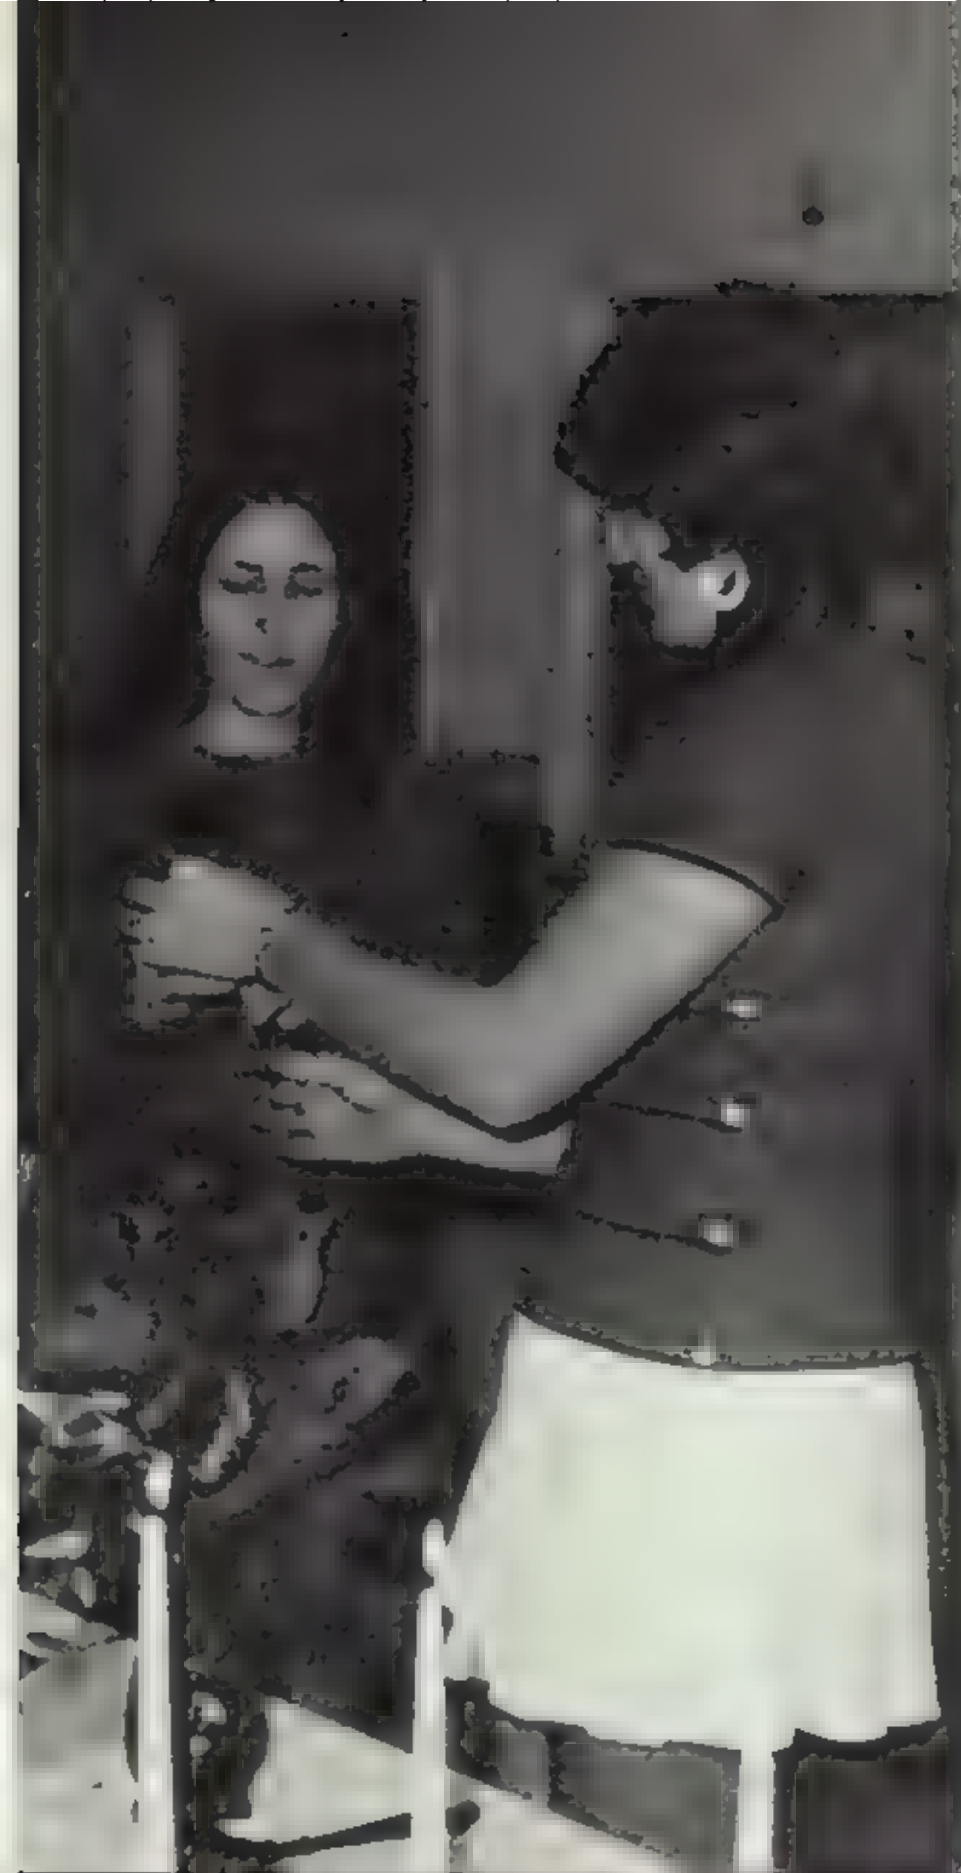

Bill Ring Delights Audience with Past Episodes

Organizations

FHA Seeks Involvement

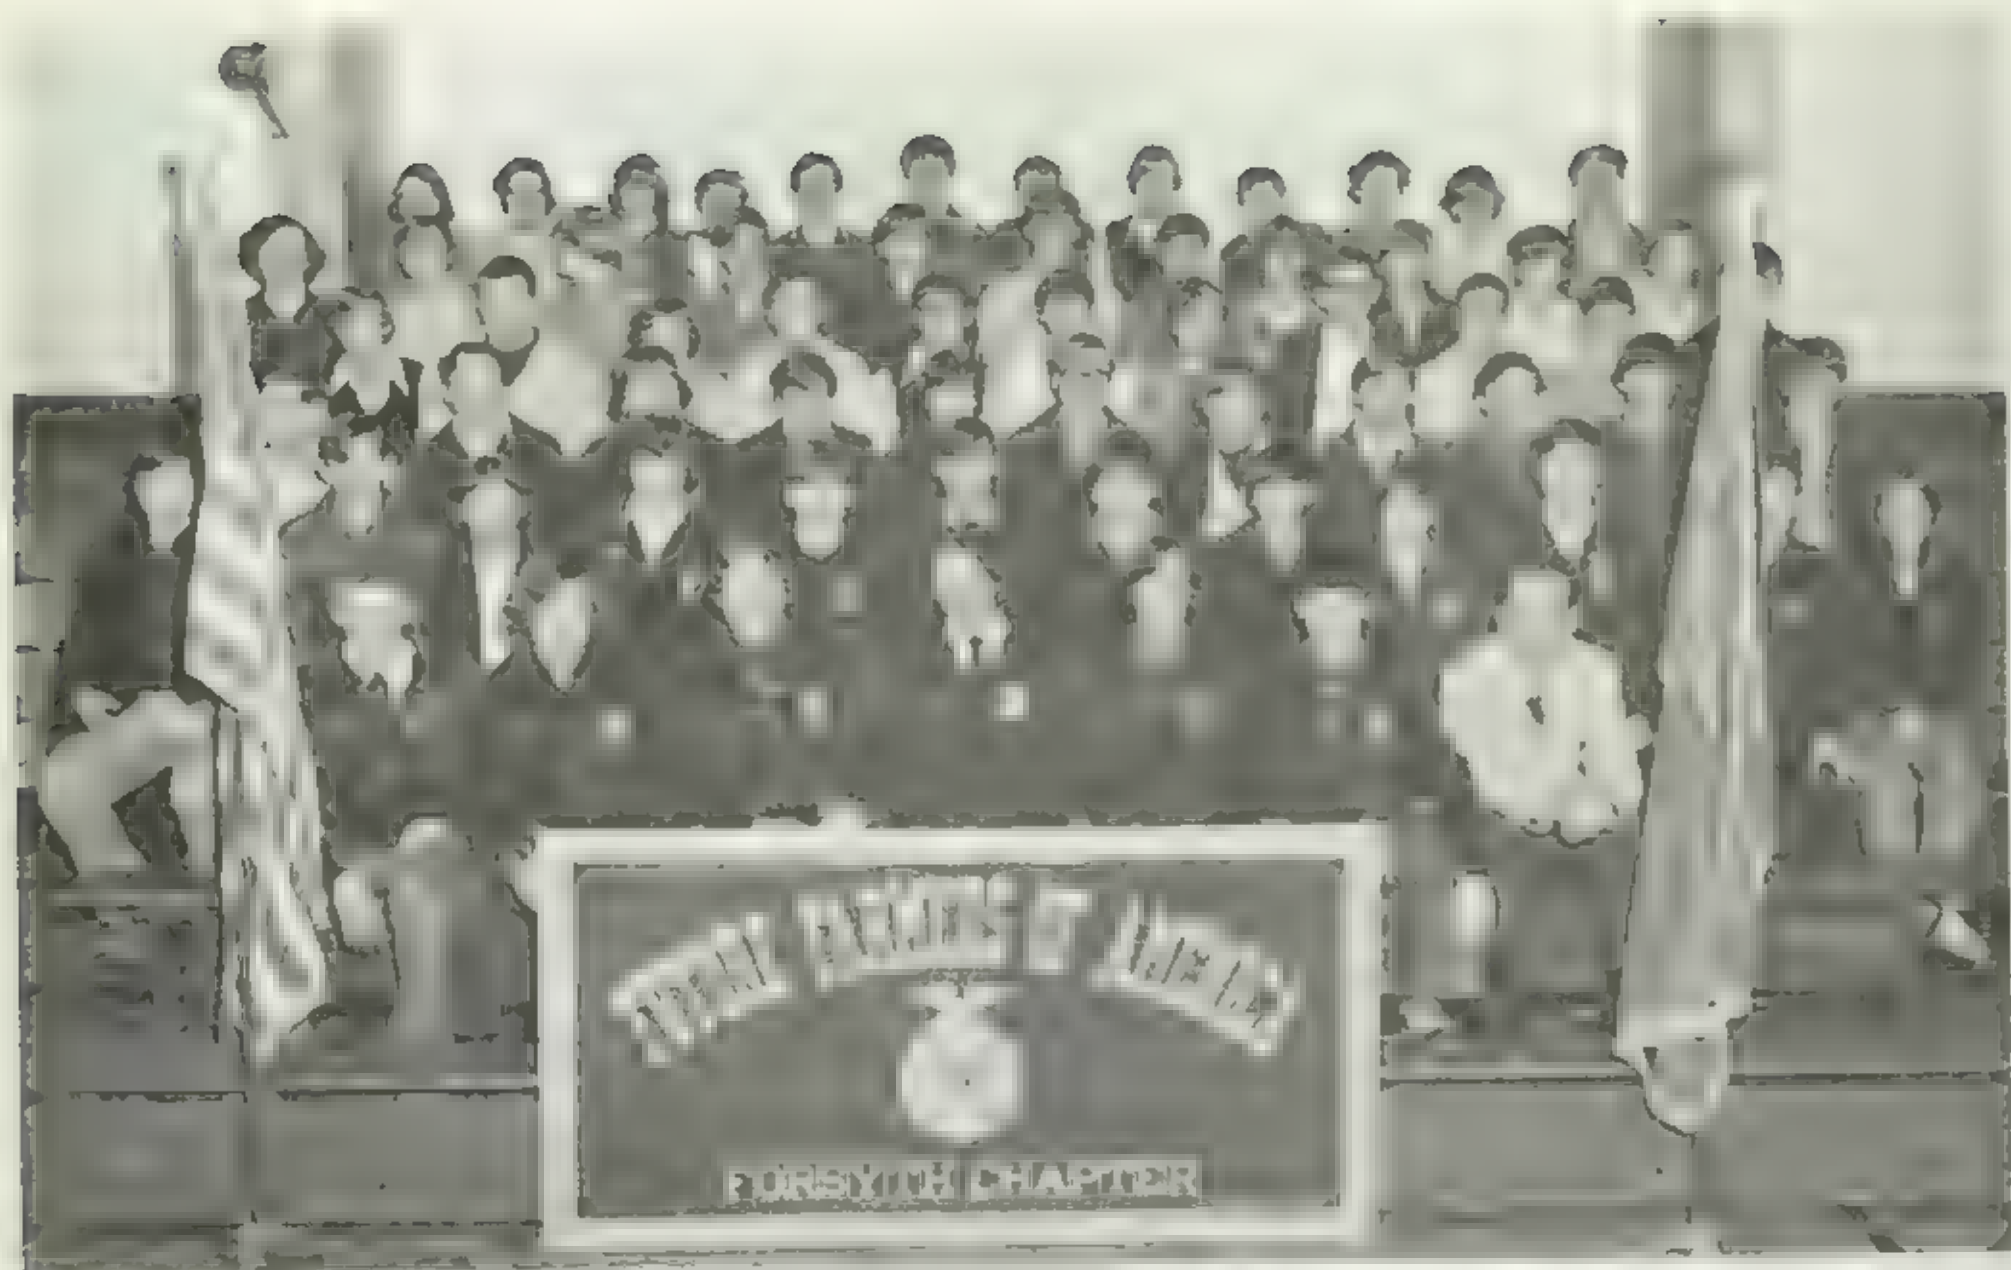

A single red rose to each girl designated the installation of officers of the Forsyth Chapter of Future Homemakers of America. Mrs. Sherron Hancock, sponsor, opened the ceremony by lighting nine candles and reciting the purpose that each candle stood for in FHA.

Having a theme of "Up, Up, and Away," a weather balloon and strands of brilliant color accented the FHA Christmas float in the Forsyth Christmas Parade.

To make money the FHA sold Stanley Products. Another money-making project was an Old Fashioned Pie Supper.

Dismissal of school due to bad weather canceled the FHA Christmas Tea. It was a disappointment to the girls who had helped in the preparation of food, drinks, and decorations.

FFA Goes Co-Ed

Connie Combs became the first girl to enroll in the Future Farmers of America at Forsyth High School. She joined the boys with the required project and in completing club activities.

To raise money for the annual banquet and state convention, members sold candy, magazines, and items which they produced from wood and metal in shop.

Judging teams placed high at area contests with the Soil Team consisting of Brad Workman, Rocky Braden, Tim Thomas, and Dennis Combs surpassing the others.

Presentation of awards at the banquet ended a productive year for this organization.

(row five) Kenny David, Kenny Young, Shannon Anderson, Billy Fletcher, Dennis Combs, Rocky Wyman, Joey Tilley, David Everett, Jon Olsen, David Stiffler, Kerry Huntington, (row six) Francis Harvey, A. J. Cromwell, Mark Stoneburner, C. B. Aldridge, Dennis Sulgrove, Doug Gimlin, Clarence Sims, Tracy Watts, Roger Dilday, Kenneth Austin, Dean May, and Michael Aldridge. Steve Clarkson, FFA president, presides over FFA meeting. Mr. Bill Hancock presents Clarence Rogers with the Chapter Farmer Award. Connie Combs receives a gift from Mr. Bill Hancock as she is honored for being the first girl in the Forsyth FFA Chapter. Brenda Turner FHA president honors John Dees with a gift for being 1973-1974 FHA Beau.

Fall Setting Enlivens Barnwarming

"The House of Sound" from Springfield supplied stereo-taped music for dancing at the annual FFA-FHA Barnwarming held in early November.

The bus barn festively decorated with bales of hay, crepe paper, and tree limbs provided the site for the yearly event with seniors Kathy Grant and John Dees reigning as FFA Sweetheart and FHA Beau.

Competition among classes added excitement to the traditional contests. The various games consisted of bobbing for apples, pie-eating contests, sack races, pass the lifesavers, and egg-in-the-spoon races.

Cool apple cider and cookies, cakes, and pies furnished by FHA members served as refreshments.

Annual Banquet Welcomes Guests

"Our World and Welcome To It" was the theme carried out as a record crowd attended the annual FHA-FFA Parent-Daughter, Parent-Son Banquet. Red and white, FHA colors, and blue and gold, FFA colors, added meaning to the decorations. Corsages on the tables were presented to senior FHA members following the meal.

Dr. Marvin Oetting, head of the Agriculture Department at the School of the Ozarks, spoke concerning career choices and the importance of choosing a college.

The highlight of the evening was presentation of awards by both groups. Among those honored were Dale Sanders, Green Hand award; Clarence Rogers, Star Chapter Farmer; and Steve Clarkson and Rick Turner, State Chapter Farmers. Mrs. Sherron Hancock recognized Sandy Beeler (senior), Cherryl Cook (junior), and Becky Stelplugh (sophomore) as Outstanding Home Economics Students.

Band Members Engage In Activities and Contests

Performing for the community at Spring Concert, marching in Christmas and Halloween parades, and traveling to Taneyville to present an assembly kept band members busy throughout the year.

Under the direction of Mr. Donald

Jones, the band and individuals participated in district contest. Outstanding performances were turned in by Anne Albert and Lin Sell, flute soloists; Keith Davis and Jane Wehrman, saxophone soloists; and Mark Ferwerda, piano soloist.

Singers Exhibit Talents To Community

Becoming more involved in school and community activities kept chorus and Special Mixed Chorus members on their toes. A Thanksgiving assembly in conjunction with the Speech Department exhibited the talents of this group. The Christmas season found a flurry of activities revolving around a Christmas Cantata, "Love Transcending."

This Cantata was presented in area churches and gave members of the community a chance to hear a school performance. Another cantata was prepared for an Easter presentation.

Concluding events of the year were sub-district, district, and state music contests.

Pep Club Generates Spirit

Led by "A" and "B" team cheerleaders, Pep Club members enthusiastically cheered on the Panther teams and became an integral part of the Forsyth sport scene.

Raising money for new uniforms provided a challenge for the Pep Club. Money-making projects included selling refreshments during softball and baseball games, holding a car wash, having a Pie and Ice Cream Social, sponsoring a Donkey Ball game, and selling letterette stationery. After receiving the blue sweaters the Pep Club realized that hard work does pay off

Clubs Cooperate to Aid Community

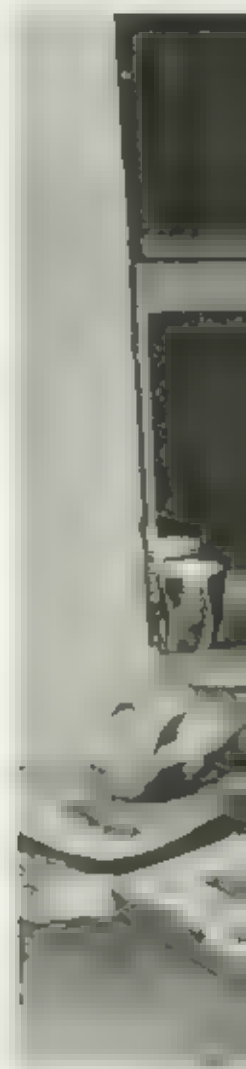

An increase in activities characterized both Student Council and Beta Club this year.

Council members were seen at ball games and downtown selling Panther cushions. Money was also raised to sponsor Homecoming through the sale of admission tickets to the dance following the game.

Beta Club members, who were required to maintain at least an "S" average, were also busy raising money by sponsoring the Pee Wee Tournament. Their funds went for such items as a Christmas party for Head Start and State Beta Convention in St. Louis.

In cooperation with FHA, Student Council and Beta Club participated in the sale of Smiley Candles for Muscular Dystrophy.

FBLA Embarks on First Ventures

Induction ceremonies performed by the Parkview Future Business Leaders of America introduced to Forsyth a national youth organization for high school students enrolled in business subjects

Starting out the year with twenty-four members, the club took up several projects to make money to attend the state convention in Jefferson City. Among the various projects were selling cookies and panther basketball pins and sponsoring a student talent show.

The FBLA also entered a float in the Forsyth Women's Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade.

Ferwerda (president), Pam Pace (vice president), Cyndy Karasek (reporter), Reta Gann, and Kathy Grant. Jimalee Green sells a box of cookies to Mark McMahan. Debbie Sanders makes the rounds with the panther pins. A float was entered in the Women's Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade. James Steele lights a candle at induction ceremonies. Mark Ferwerda presides over a monthly meeting.

Students Aspire To Be Journalists

Hard work was the key to success in journalism. As students experimented with writing and layout design, they gained skills which were useful in other areas. Meeting deadlines and stressing accuracy made possible the production of a weekly school page along with the annual.

Five members of the journalism class joined the National Quill and Scroll organization. Sue Crouch, Mark Ferwerda, Debbie Sanders, Ronda Gimlin, and Gary Crouch of Quill and Scroll were responsible for conducting an elementary spelling contest to promote good spelling.

Sports

Panthers Rebuild Successfully

The Panthers climbed to second place this year in the Republic regional before falling to Nixa, the runner-up of the State Tournament

In addition to the second place trophy in the Regional Tournament, Forsyth took second in the Forsyth Tournament, third in the Greene County League Tournament, and consolation in the Ava Tournament

In Greene County League play the varsity earned a 4-3 record and an overall 16-11 record

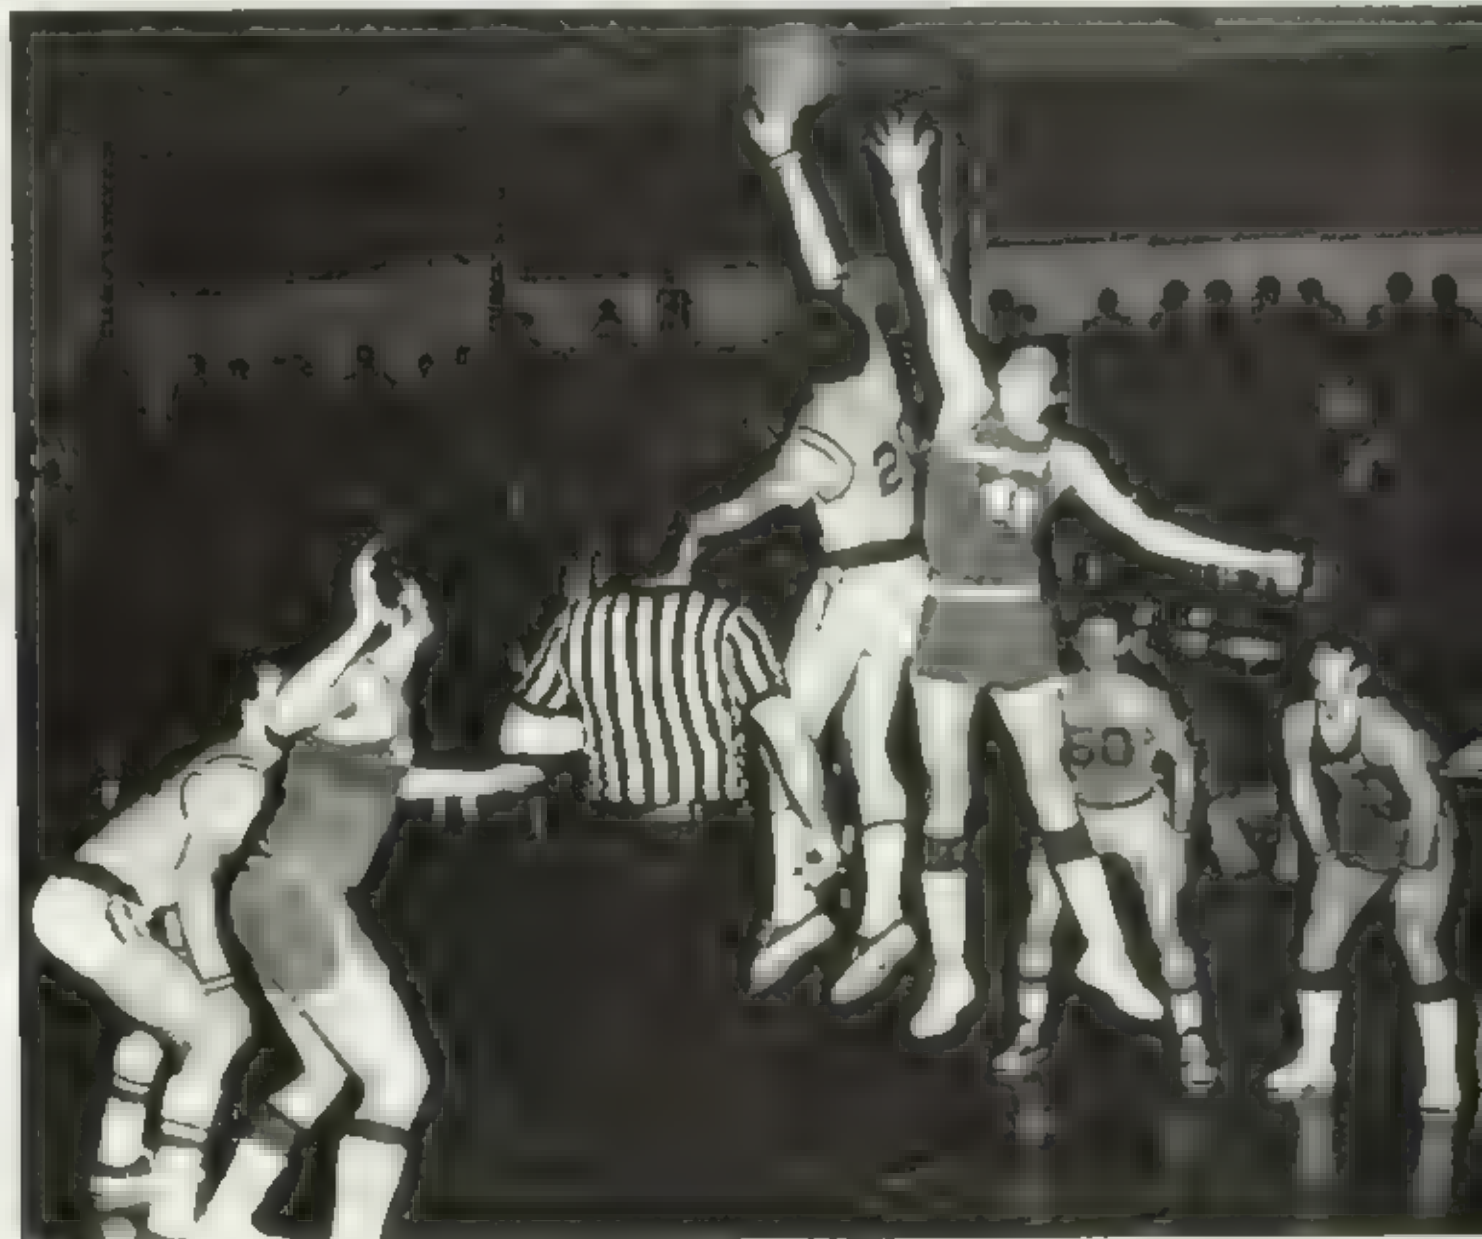

Coach Speedy Branstetter started his first year as Forsyth's coach with one veteran and came up with a winning team

Spirit and drive were provided by the cheerleaders, the pep squad and their sponsor, Miss Karen Hughes

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT. Connie Jones and Mindy Gentle cheer the Panthers on to victory at SMSU. Dennis Combs adds two more to the Panthers' score against Nixa. Varsity Cheerleaders Mindy Gentle, Connie Jones, Susan Campbell, Jimalee Green, Debbie Sanders, and Vicki Foshe lead the school in a cheer. Starting Panthers are ready for victory. Don Reynolds goes up for two. Randy Stuart tries for two from the field. Mindy Gentle portrays a female basketball at a pep assembly.

JV Encourages Hope for Future

Victory was a regular occurrence for the Junior Varsity as they finished the season with a 13-5 overall and a 5-2 Greene County League record. Picking up freshmen players mid-season provided impetus to complete the year. Sophomore Dennis Combs turned in a superior performance from the field backed up by Rick Brown, Dennis Sulgrove, and Tabby Crouch. The bench supplied necessary aid to keep the team in top form.

Basketball Strengthens Student Unity

Girls Gain Experience

Coach Karen Hughes prepared the girls' basketball team for their first season of play by teaching them fundamentals, basic skills, and ball-handling techniques.

Gaining experience as the season advanced, the team finished 5-0 overall and 3-5 in the Greene County League. Susan Campbell was the leading scorer for the team averaging ten points per game. She was backed up by other team members who played a vital part in the team's success.

Taking time to rest in the dressing room during half time are Linda Crawford, Cindy Sims, and Beth Noffsinger

Freshmen Top League Tourney

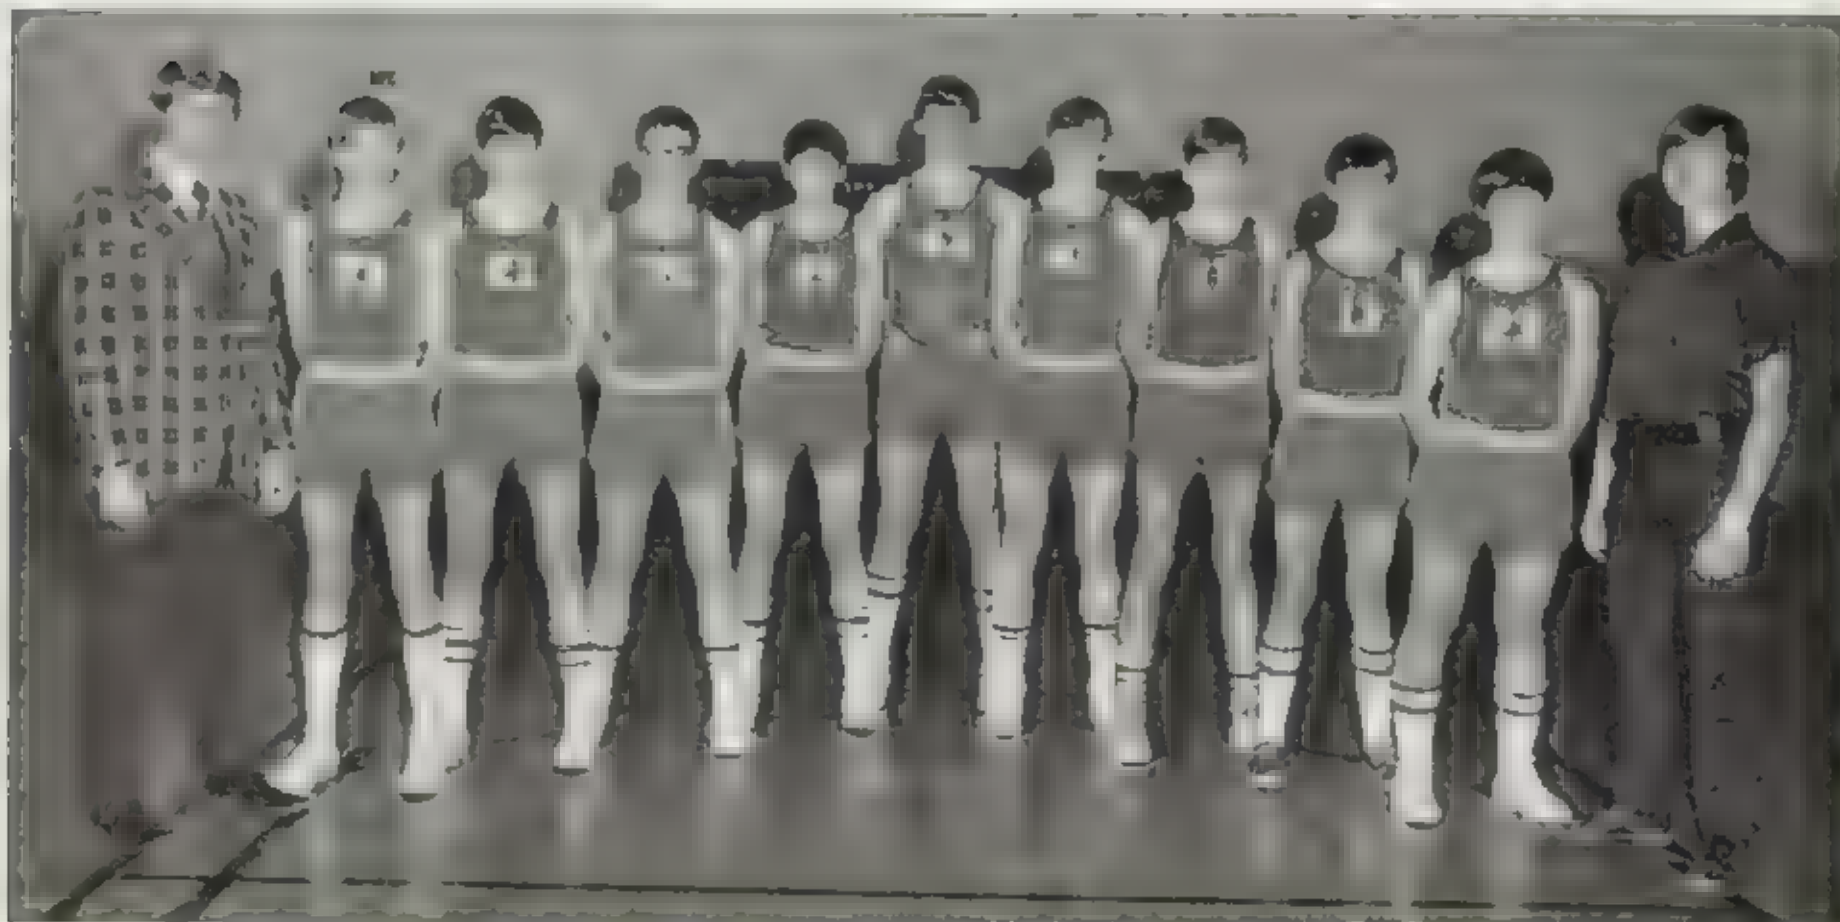

Capturing top honors in the Greene County League Tournament provided the climax to an outstanding year for the Freshmen Panthers. With a 13-1 record, this team behind the coaching of Mr. Steve Holland finished second in Greene County League play. Height was a factor with the starting five averaging 6 feet, but each individual contributed with high scoring or hustling defense. Opponents averaged 35 points to the Panthers 58 points per game.

Panthers Share Championship

Baseball continued to be the major sport in the fall and spring. The team compiled a successful 14-3 overall record with a 6-1 ledger in the fall and an 8-2 record in the spring.

The season was highlighted in the fall when the team captured the Greene County League co-championship with Nixa as both teams racked up a 5-1 league record.

Hopes of participating in state play this spring were cut short as Crane defeated the Panthers in the second round of district play.

Team Improves With Practice

Ending the season with a 4-3 record, the Girls' Softball team showed an improvement throughout the year. Behind the coaching of Miss Karen Hughes, the girls began to smooth out the rough spots of their early games to pick up momentum late in the season. New uniforms gave the girls a boost in confidence and team spirit.

Combs Sets Record

Participating in several track meets throughout the spring gave team members a chance to excel in their respective events. The major achievement in track came when Dennis Combs broke the school record for high jump as he leaped to a height of 6'2" at an Ozark track meet. Combs (high jump) and Donald Reynolds (pole vault and high jump) qualified to compete at the State Track Meet in Columbia. Other standouts on the boys' team were Randy Stuart, shot put; Dennis Sulgrove, pole vault; James Steele, discus; Dean Harmon, 440-yard dash; and Wesley Pennington, two-mile run.

The second year of girls' track provided a more knowledgeable background for participants. The girls gained the experience they needed to place in numerous track meets.

Taking part in long distance running, the cross country team built up their stamina for the event

Banquet Honors Athletes

School spirit could still be felt as recognition was bestowed on athletes and cheerleaders at the Athletic Banquet with the presentation of awards.

Basketball, softball, and track were activities the girls have been participating in during the 1973-74 school year. The boys lettered in cross-country, track, baseball, and basketball. Trophies were presented to the athletes who had excelled in their sport. They were Dennis Combs, track; John Dees, best defensive player in baseball. Don Reynolds, best free throw percentage; and Randy Stuart, rebounding and best field goal percentage. Delilah Johnson received a trophy for the Outstanding Girl Athlete.

Coach Chuck Williams from SMSU was the guest speaker for the event.

and Randy Steen with track certificates. Don Reynolds receives the Best Free Throw Percentage Award from Jimalee Green. Miss Hughes listens intently as Coach Chuck Williams, guest speaker from SMSU, emphasizes the importance of being an athlete.

Participants Receive Awards

CLOCKWISE FROM UPPER LEFT. Randy Thurman, Leon Thompson, and Ray Doneski eat heartily at the banquet. Coach Speedy Branstetter announces names of those acquiring awards. Dennis Combs gains the Outstanding Track Award presented by Vicki Foshe. Gene Young, Rick Brown, and Leon Thompson receive basketball awards from Connie Jones. Future Goals Enter Seniors' Thoughts

As their final year at FHS drew to an end, the seniors were able to look back with nostalgia, and yet look forward with anticipation. All the friendships developed, the subjects mastered, and the disappointments experienced could be viewed with more feeling than ever before. At the same time, goals for the future loomed like mountains to be scaled.

Individual accomplishments marked the year as several students received scholarships and awards. Debbie Sanders was chosen DAR Good Citizen and qualified for state competition in humorous readings for speech. Don Reynolds competed in the pole vault and high jump at state track meet and gained second team recognition in Greene County League for basketball.

Whatever their plans, the seniors stood on equal grounds as the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" rang through the gymnasium on the day they concluded their high school career.

Confidence Leads Sophomores

With confidence in their abilities, the sophomores were prepared to strive for better understanding in their daily lives

Curriculum openings increased, and choices were made available on a wider basis which offered an opportunity for students to broaden their experiences. Choosing from such electives as typing, drivers' education, vocational classes, and a variety of science courses enhanced the required schedule of world history, English, and mathematics.

Eighth Grade Widens Interests

An awareness of their surroundings resulted for eighth graders as they began to be interested in environmental problems. Through a two hour science class, students picked up litter along area streets and highways and produced a display of solutions to problems of this nature. Field trips to local lakes and streams aided their study of plant and animal life.

Social studies gave students an opportunity to present favorite chapters from their book to the class and to participate in skits based on famous stories in American history.

Reading, writing, and researching in English provided a solid background for high school work.

The spirit of the Eighth Grade was demonstrated in the games and dancing of a class party which provided a chance to get together outside the classroom.

Seventh Grade Makes Adjustments

Excitement filled the halls as the Seventh Grade eagerly made adjustments to high school life. They were introduced to new and different learning techniques along with new administrators and teachers, class schedules, and activities.

Deepening their knowledge in the fields of mathematics, English, social studies, and science was achieved as the stage of adulthood began. Both boys and girls were acquainted with the fundamentals of shop work while a basic art class gave students the opportunity to express their artistic ability.

Junior Panthers Increase Momentum

Mr. Glenn Aversman assumed the responsibilities of coaching Junior High basketball and guided the Seventh Grade in compiling a 4-3 record by the end of season play. Increasing in experience brought all four wins in the last five games.

Breaking even with eight wins and eight losses, the Eighth Grade gained momentum throughout the year collecting six wins in the final eight games. Placing first in the Kirbyville Tournament crowned the season for these junior Panthers.

Backing from Seventh and Eighth Grade cheerleaders and fans supplied rewards for members of these teams.

Junior High Acquires Skills

Sight reading, keeping steady tempos, and learning precise notations help the Junior High Band play with speed and accuracy. Sixth Graders Focus Attention on Life Becoming aware of the customs of other countries, the Sixth Graders focused their attention in social studies on people of other lands.

In mathematics, the students dealt primarily with multiplication and division of fractions along with decimals.

All areas of science were covered throughout the year. Among their projects was the hatching of eggs in the animal unit.

Observing the natural habitat of wild animals, the class journeyed to Buena Vista Animal Paradise. They also visited the Shrine Circus in Springfield for their annual class trip.

Combined Grades Unite Efforts

To prevent overcrowding, the Fifth and Sixth Grades were split and part of each class combined under Mrs. Ola Aday. This arrangement provided a better environment for learning.

While much of their work was done individually, class members worked together on the study of people of long ago for social studies, mathematics, reading, science, spelling, and language arts

Participating in a choral reading with Mrs. Jeanette Olson's Fifth Grade Class, kept the fifth graders of the combined class in contact with their classmates, while mathematics races provided competition between sixth graders in both rooms.

Presenting three fairy tales in an assembly as an extracurricular activity supplied unity for the two groups

Independence Yields Growth For Fifth Grade

Fifth Grade is a time of transitional growth both mentally and socially. Students develop the ability to work and think without constant dependence on adult supervision. Socially mature behavior becomes the key word in activities such as presenting a play based on "Rip Van Winkle" and making field trips to Fantastic Caverns and Watercolor U.S.A.

Fourth Grade Pushes For Achievement

Knowing that Fourth Grade pushes toward the ultimate goal of achievement in education, these young people strived to make each step a success. Learning that richness of the mind is found in constant development of new techniques as well as harboring old modes of ideas for reference in future demands, the class worked together in different types of experiments. Projects and classwork such as studying famous people, performing in plays and skits, and keeping weather records in science made this year bustle with excitement as the students worked together toward their goal which is Fifth Grade

Classes Join for Learning

Due to a large number of students in the third and fourth grades, a new class was formed combining several pupils from each grade with Mrs. Dixie Weidman as their teacher.

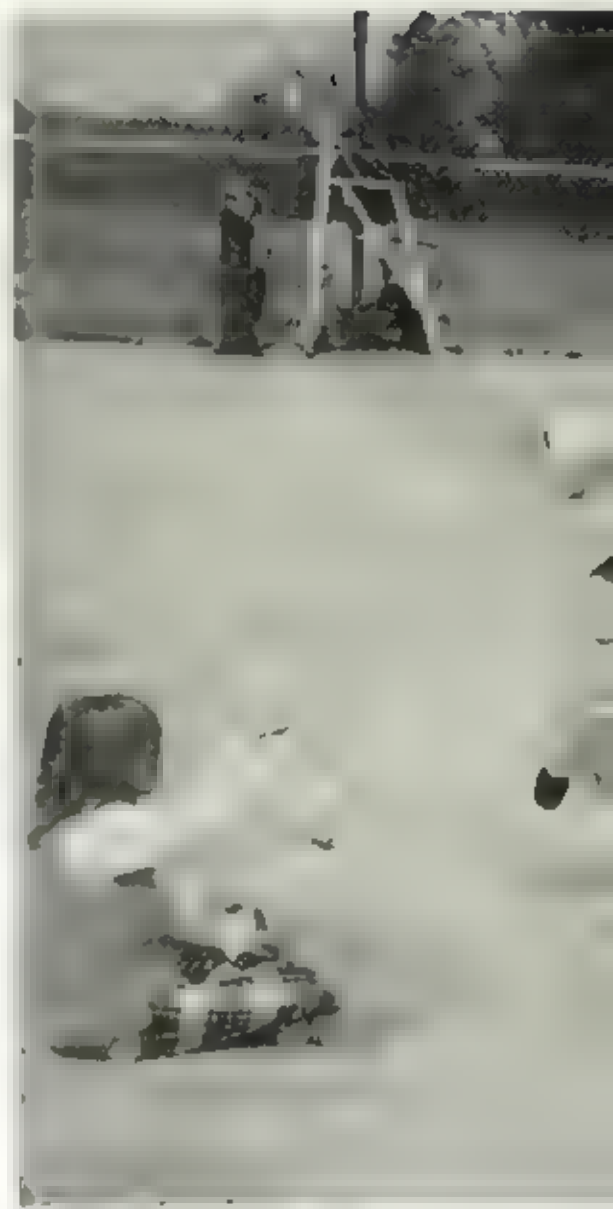

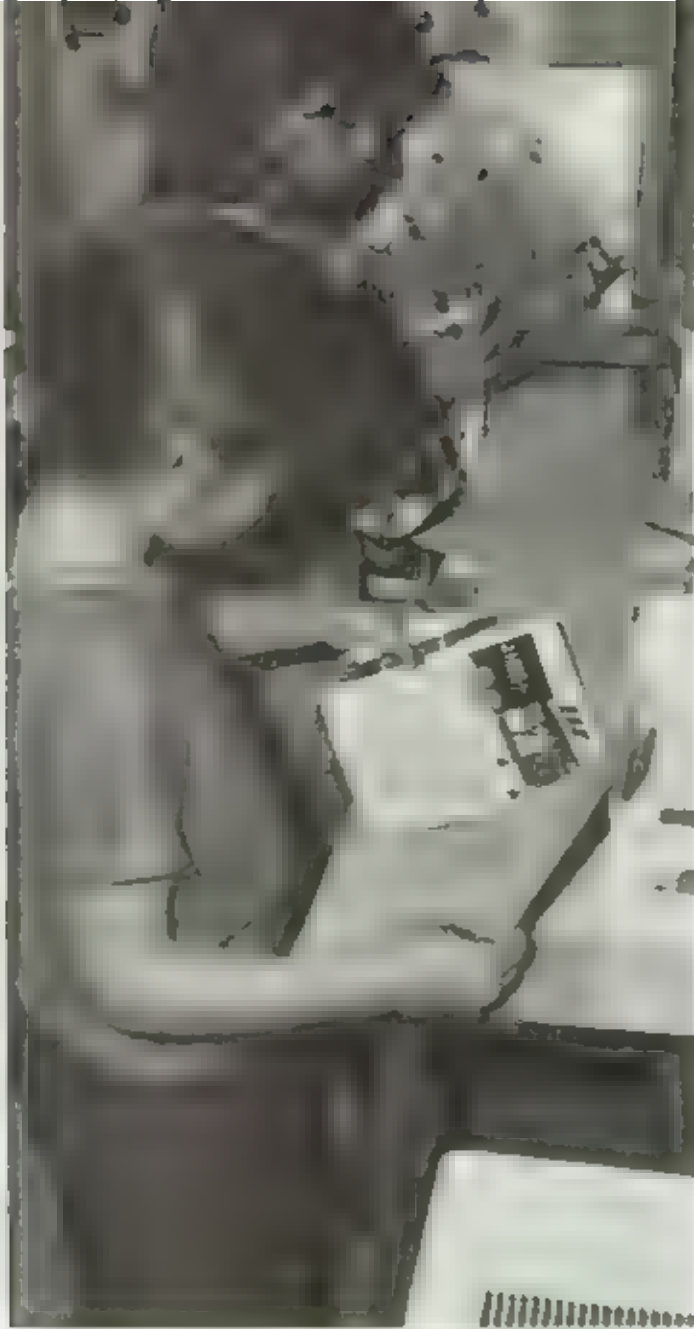

Field trips played an important part in the class curriculum as they visited the Bank of Taney County in Forsyth and the Shrine Circus in Springfield. Mr. Elmo Ingenthron and Mr. Doug Mahnkey, authorities on Ozark history, enlightened the group with presentations on Ozark Indians and the history of Forsyth, respectively.

Sculpturing added meaning to a study on the Indians of South America while making homemade ice cream highlighted the learning of measurements in mathematics.

Happenings Activate

Third Grade

Molly, a chameleon, was a new addition to the Third Grade classroom this year. Her home, a terrarium, acquainted the children with a first-hand knowledge in the study of plant life.

Observing Negro History Week the students presented "Harnet Tubman" for PTA and later in the year for the Spring Festival. Class members were rewarded for their work on the play as all parents attended the PTA meeting giving them the prize for room attendance. With the money they purchased games for their room.

In science, studies included gases which quench fires; and this prompted some to construct fire extinguishers.

Excitement prevailed as students examined and used their new textbook in social studies, "Comparing Ways and Means."

Highlights of the year were the trips to see "Ten in a Basket" at the School of the Ozarks and to visit Laura Ingalls Wilder's home in Mansfield

Second Graders Explore Surroundings

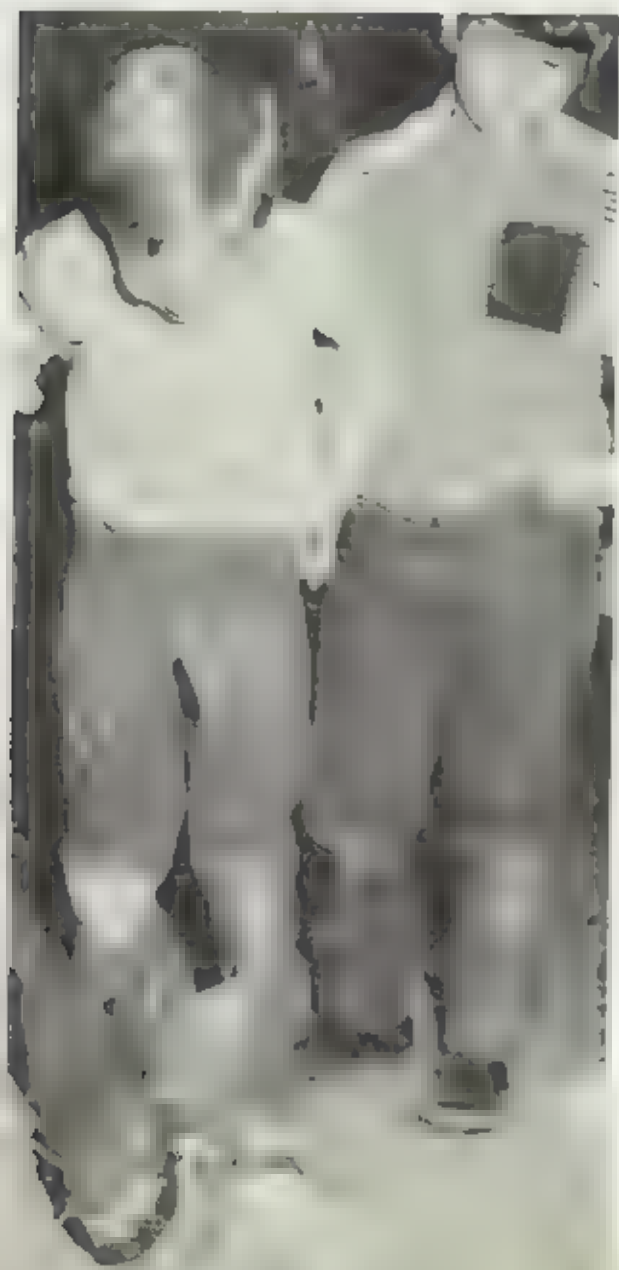

Classroom activities were more lively this year for second graders with the addition of several field trips, projects, and a practice teacher, Mrs. Linda Stanton from School of the Ozarks.

During their study of the ocean and fish, Mrs. Wilma Davis and her second grade students visited the fish hatchery at Table Rock Dam.

An investigation of the migration of birds, of plant life, and of animals in their environments aroused interest in science classes.

Students explored in the field of mathematics with fractions, multiplications, re-grouping of numbers, and money value.

Later in the school year simple words, numbers, and colors were taught in Spanish.

Reading Creates Foundations for First Graders

Filled with many questions about life, six-year-olds sought answers through the basic skills of First Grade

They practiced manuscript writing and modern number work while forming and studying habits for future years

Social Studies and Science developed a knowledge of people in other lands and an awareness of the world around them

Most important the first grader learned to read the primary words and through phonics to construct and understand longer words. Reading laid the foundations for future success in education

Kindergarten Pursues New Goals

Mastering the alphabet, basic mathematics and the finer points of school behavior provided major goals for kindergarten students. The discovery of developing friendships and acquiring self-discipline added meaning to visits to the local fire station, Sulgrove's dairy farm, the Shrine Circus in Springfield, and a puppet show at School of the Ozarks. These experiences rewarded kindergarteners in their search for development.

Pee Wees Launch Basketball Career

Finishing second in the Forsyth Pee Wee Tournament supplied a pinnacle for young elementary players. Fourth, fifth, and sixth grade boys were eligible for the Pee Wee Team, but from the many who wanted to play only seventeen could be chosen. Members of the team gained valuable background experience while compiling a 2-4 overall record.

Cheerleaders from the sixth grade added a spark of enthusiasm to the basketball season.

Elementary Moves Toward Awareness

on an art project occupies the time of Chris Reynolds and Randy Brown. Nurse Jona Rogers gives a hearing test to kindergarten student Brain Fix. Fictional chraacters come to life for the first graders as cast members from the play "The Bad Children" entertain them.
